

AVG Awareness

The AVG (GDPR) Awareness training provides a clear overview of the privacy legislation. After completion, you will know how to deal with personal data, data leaks and the rights of data subjects in practice.

The AVG (GDPR) has been in force since May 2018. Since then, the privacy legislation has been in the news regularly. What rights do data subjects have and what should you take into account when processing data? The AVG Awareness training helps you refresh your knowledge. After completing the e-learning, you will know how apply the privacy rules to your organisation.

Target audience

The AVG Awareness e-learning is relevant for all professionals who are dealing with the processing of personal data and the application of privacy rules within their organisation.

Objective

The AVG Awareness e-learning will guide you through the AVG/GDPR. The training gives a clear overview of the privacy laws and regulations. In addition, the e-learning offers practical tools that help you deal with personal data, data leaks and the rights of data subjects in daily practice.

After completion, you will recognise a data leak and know how to act when one occurs. You will also be able to explain which rights data subjects have and which obligations apply to you as a data processor.

The e-learning provides a clear and comprehensive overview of the requirements deriving from the AVG.

Prior knowledge

The AVG/GDPR Awareness e-learning is a course at HBO (higher vocational education) level. Specific knowledge is not required.

Tailor-made courses

We can tailor the AVG Awareness training to different types of organisations. For example, we have developed a special AVG Awareness e-learning for housing corporations. Do you want to add specific examples or content to the e-learning? Please indicate this during the registration process.
