

Market Abuse Awareness

As an employee of a financial organisation, you are regularly confronted with the risk of market abuse and the many rules that must prevent it, such as the Market Abuse Regulation, an insider regulation or the DSI code of conduct. These rules and codes are aimed at protecting investors and improving the integrity of the financial markets. But how can you make sure to comply with them?

The Market Abuse Awareness e-learning provides insight into the regulation regarding market abuse and helps you prevent insider trading or market manipulation.

Target audience

The Market Abuse Regulation applies to all employees of financial institutions, such as banks, investment firms and institutions, pension funds and insurers.

Education level

The Market Abuse e-learning is a course at HBO (higher vocational education) level.

Specific knowledge is not required, but we do assume that you have basic knowledge of financial services.

Objective

The Market Abuse Awareness e-learning provides insight into the regulations regarding market abuse. After completing the course, you will be able to recognise signals of market abuse and comply with the Market Abuse Regulation. You will also know what to do in cases of (the appearance of) market abuse and what measures to take in order to prevent market abuse. The main goal is that we all maintain trust in the financial markets and to make sure that investors, your customers, your employer and finance professionals such as yourself are not harmed.

Course content

You can follow the Market Abuse awareness e-learning in our online learning environment, whenever and wherever you want.

The program consists of:

- Baseline measurement
- Theory
 - Laws and regulations
 - Insider trading
 - Market manipulation
 - Other regulations
 - Preventing market abuse
 - Summary

Market Abuse Awareness

- Test
- Certificate Market Abuse Awareness

- Get in touch
- Request a demo

Study duration

The training takes between one and two hours to complete, depending on your prior knowledge about the subject.

Register →

Costs

The costs per participant are €95,-

More information

You can find more information about the Market Abuse Awareness e-learning on our website.

Want to know more? Request a free demo of the training or get in touch with our learning specialists.

What our participants say

"The theory was clear and informative and contained all kinds of examples. This was very helpful in understanding the context."

"Very informative course, essential for all employees of financial institutions. Well done!"

